Realityworks, Inc., and the NCHSE will present on how hands-on learning benefits today's students and how to engage students in the health science classroom. Realityworks' curriculum focuses not only the technical skills and procedures, but the importance of relating to patients. Attendees will interact with simulation stations, including visual impairment, hearing impairment, arthritis simulation, geriatric medication management, hemiplegia, geriatric simulation, pregnancy simulation and more.

Attendees can register in class for a chance to win a RealCare™ Geriatric Simulator (a $2499 value!)
